Re: Adam Corey-Investigative Subpoena

Dear Keith:

As part of the ongoing response to the subpoena served on October 15, 2018, and your supplemental request dated October 25, 2018, enclosed please find additional documents numbered Corey-Ethics-Prod-000231 through 000273. These were inadvertently excluded from Friday production. As before, please contact me with any questions or if you require additional information.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Christopher M. Kise

Adam, I expect to have Alex Sink, some of her cohorts and maybe Charlie Crist rounded up for this date – I've proposed a lunch. I should have this firm by Friday.

I can fly Andrew and you down and back if you want.

Can you give me a sense of the time of day we'd be targeting on Friday, February 12th?

I would like to try to make this work, but need to know a little more about Peter's availability.

Does lunch on that day work?

Peter - Here's a list of folks that we might consider inviting to the Gillum meet and greet. Please let me know if you would like to reach out to them rather than me reaching out. I don't typically invite the trial attorneys and the health care companies to the same event. I can see if the trial attorneys show interest first. I'm trying to come up with a variety of different folks with different interests.

Justin Day - Justin is a lobbyist with Cardenas Partners. He handles several state wide clients with business interests in the Tampa Bay area.

Clint Shouppe and (or) Keri Eisenbeis- Clint handles all of the state politics for BayCare Health Systems. Keri is Clint's boss and handles the Federal politics.

Dale Swope - Dale is a trial atty in Tampa with Swope Rodante and is the incoming leader at the Florida Justice Association.

John Ramil - You probably know John. TECO. Do you want them there?

Jim Davis - Jim is a federal lobbyist but has such strong ties here in Tampa that it makes sense to invite him.

Frank Sanchez - Frank is now back in Tampa. He was undersecretary at Dept. of Commerce for a while.

Steve Yerrid - One of the original Tobacco attorneys.

WellCare - Tricia Barrentine Guay. Tricia handles federal politics. I need to get the name of the person who handles their state politics.

Ana Cruz - Ana is a lobbyist with Floridian Partners. Has several state wide clients with business interests in Tampa Bay area.

Richard Winning - Owns Derby Lane in St. Petersburg.

Liz Smith & Chip Newton - Liz is with Bloomin and Chip is private equity. Chip usually attends these lunches on their behalf.

Craig Sher - You know Craig. Do you want me to reach out to him or would you prefer to?

All of those folks mentioned are great people that Andrew would be well served to meet. I know that he knows some of them already, which is a good thing. Also, it would be good to find some time for just you, me, and Andrew to chat before or after as I know he would like to get to know you better and learn more about your vision.

Do you think we can do that?

Let's chat tomorrow.

Thanks,

I have reserved the Bay Street Room at Capital Grill from 1:30PM to 4:00 Friday February 12, 2016 for a food and beverage required bill of at least $600. The room can be set up for up to 30 but will be downsized to the actual count just before the event when we have a closer count confirmed.

I am expecting Andrew Gillum's Group will be 3, Southport 3, I've also called Charlie and will address the caveat Marley and I discussed today if he does come.

Should the event cost be in Ruth's List name? I have reserved the room in my name, but perhaps under campaign regs it should be in Ruth's List's name. I'll reimburse Ruth's List if that is preferred.

Also, please look at the attached menu for drinks and appetizers – cocktails yea or nay, what appetizers?

Thanks – Peter

Jeff, attached is a flight request for a RT to pick up Tallahassee's Mayor Gillum plus 2 at THL 11:00AM to PIE with a PIE to TLH return no later than 5:00PM.

Adam, can I assume we'll need an invoice for this trip to the Gillum campaign for the prevailing RT ticket cost TLH to Tampa International?

Thanks - Peter

Greetings Peter,

I hope this message finds you well. Adam Corey asked that I reach out and send you the attached biography of Mayor Gillum. Please take a look and let me know if we can provide any additional information.

Related to that, I wanted to ask you if you could provide some insight into the lunch meeting we have scheduled next Friday. Could you let me know who will be attending the meeting and also if Mayor Gillum should prepare anything?

We both look very much forward to connecting again next week.

Thanks and all the best,
Dustin

With a passion for public service, and the ability to motivate and mobilize people to action, Mayor Andrew D. Gillum is recognized statewide and nationally as an emerging leader. At the age of 23, Gillum became the youngest person ever elected to the Tallahassee City Commission in February 2003. At the time of the election, Gillum was a student at Florida A&M University (FAMU), majoring in political science. In August 2004, Mr. Gillum was re-elected to serve for a full four-year term, and was subsequently re-elected in 2008 and August 2012. He was elected Mayor of Tallahassee in August 2014. Born on July 26, 1979 in Miami, Mayor Gillum was raised in Gainesville as the fifth of seven children born to Frances and Charles Gillum.

Mayor Gillum is a member of the Board of Directors for The Schott Foundation for Public Education, the New World Foundation, and the Opportunity To Learn Action Fund. He completed Harvard Kennedy School's 2009-summer session of their Senior Executives in State and Local Government Program and is a graduate of the Rockwood Yearlong Fellowship for Executive Leaders "Leading From the Inside Out" program. He is also a member of Alpha Zeta Chapter of Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity Incorporated (Boule'), the FAMU National Alumni Association, and Bethel AME Church.

Mayor Gillum has received numerous awards and recognitions for his passion and service over the years, and has been named an emerging leader by the Congressional Black Caucus, Jet Magazine, Ebony Magazine, the Association of Trial Lawyers for America (ATLA), The Drum Major Institute, IMPACT, and the Washington Post. He was also recently named a 2015 Rodel Fellow, as well as a member of the 2015 Root 100 Top Influencers list.

Dustin and Adam, I think we need to add a prominent section to his bio that talks about what he believes and has done.

See attached for my comments. I don't need this until Monday and in that time we can be more thoughtful – this will be the first impression people in the Tampa area will have of him and as he broadens his exposure across the state this bio will gain even more importance as the first impression info about him.

I trust I'm not overstepping here.

Thanks – Peter

Specific programs and goals he has initiated are? What are Mayor Gillum's core beliefs about governance as shown by what he has done?

Sort of how I see him based on what little exposure I've had to him: As a City Councilman and Mayor, Gillum has focused his efforts on bringing together the businesses community, the City of Tallahassee and Leon County to focus on creating the programs and environment to grow the Capital Region economy while keeping his goal to have all of its citizens can share in the benefits a growing modern economy can provide.

Mayor Gillum is a member of the Board of Directors for The Schott Foundation for Public Education, the New World Foundation, and the Opportunity To Learn Action Fund. He completed Harvard Kennedy School's 2009-summer session of their Senior Executives in State and Local Government Program and is a graduate of the Rockwood Yearlong Fellowship for Executive Leaders "Leading From the Inside Out" program. Thanks for the feedback, Peter. We absolutely have a much more detailed and substantive bio. We will make it available to you ASAP, and it includes more information about the Mayor's accomplishments as well as the stances he has taken regarding Syrian Refugees, Marriage Equality, the confederate flag, etc.

Mayor Andrew D. Gillum Biography and Achievements

With a passion for public service and the ability to motivate and mobilize people to action, Mayor Andrew D. Gillum is recognized statewide and nationally as an emerging leader.

Born on July 26, 1979 in Miami, Mayor Gillum was raised in Gainesville as the fifth of seven children born to Frances and Charles Gillum. Mayor Gillum attended Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU), and was very active in the university's Student Government Association (SGA); serving as SGA President and the first student member of the FAMU Board of Trustees from 2001-2002. In this role, Mayor Gillum was invited to address the Democratic National Convention (DNC) on election violations in the state of Florida following the 2000 Presidential election. He was also instrumental in organizing the historic March on Tallahassee in protest of Governor Jeb Bush's executive order to abolish affirmative action in state university admissions and state contracting.

Mayor Gillum's impact spread statewide when he accepted the position of Florida Field Organizer with People For the American Way Foundation (PFAWF). In 2002, he organized and led the largest get-out-the-vote campaign in Florida's history, titled "Arrive With 5". At the age of 23, Gillum became the youngest person ever elected to the Tallahassee City Commission, in February 2003. At the time of the election, Gillum was still a student at FAMU, majoring in political science. In August 2004, Mr. Gillum was re-elected to serve for a full four-year term, and was subsequently re-elected in 2008 and August 2012.

Following the 2004 election, Mayor Gillum took on another leadership role at PFAWF as National Deputy Director of Young People For, a national campus-based program for emerging progressive leaders. He then created the Young Elected Officials Network in 2006 to add to the leadership pipeline of young elected leaders like himself from around the country. Mayor Gillum now serves as the Director of Youth Leadership Programs for PFAWF which oversees three program areas: Young People For, the Front Line Leaders Academy, and the Young Elected Officials Network.

During his 12 years of service on the City Commission, Mayor Gillum played a leadership role in countless community initiatives and decisions that have helped improve the community's overall quality of life, as well as ignited the economic vitality of the City. During his time as a City Commissioner, he served as the City's top negotiator with the State of Florida and local universities on key development projects; a leader in the crafting of incentive packages that expanded the City's research commercialization and high-tech manufacturing sectors; and was the catalyst behind several partnerships that have brought programs focused on restorative justice and addressing the community's digital divide to the youth of Tallahassee.

Andrew Gillum was elected Mayor of Tallahassee in August 2014. Since taking office, he has set a bold and progressive agenda to move the City and Region forward, both socially and economically, and has launched numerous transformative initiatives related to investing in early childhood development, growing entrepreneurship and innovation, supporting the development of arts and culture, and creating economic opportunities for those who need it most. From Code training partnerships with Google in Title 1 schools, to earning Tallahassee's recent designation as the best City in Florida to start a business, to strategically and measurably investing in the City's most impoverished and high crime areas; Mayor Gillum believes in leveraging smart public policy for the advancement of the community. For example, in response to a spike in violent crime in Tallahassee, Mayor Gillum launched a three pronged strategy focused on hiring an additional 39 police officers to allow for more community policing approaches to be adopted; drastically increasing and targeting the human service investment made in high crime areas to help deter issues through youth services and jobs training; and engaging community leaders and organizations to actively take back their streets through public awareness and resource education.

Mayor Gillum has also used his role to weigh in on important statewide and national issues, and has always spoken up for his progressive values; even when they have been unpopular. In early 2015, when at least a dozen Florida counties were refusing to grant marriage license to same-sex couples, Mayor Gillum raised his voice in opposition and extended an invitation for couples to host their marriage ceremonies in Florida's Capital City. In July of 2015, when Walton County voted to continue to fly a Confederate flag at its County Courthouse, Mayor Gillum again stood up for what was right, refusing to visit, support, or patronize their community while they continued to fly such a divisive symbol. And when Governor Rick Scott ordered Florida agencies to reject any relocation requests for Syrian refugees, Mayor Gillum came out against this hateful rhetoric, and offered resources and support to individuals fleeing war and violence. In each of these instances, and many more, Mayor Gillum made the choice to champion the same progressive ideals our great nation was founded upon.

Mayor Gillum has received numerous awards and recognitions for his passion and service over the years, and has been named an emerging leader by the Congressional Black Caucus, Jet Magazine, Ebony Magazine, the Association of Trial Lawyers for America (ATLA), The Drum Major Institute, IMPACT, and the Washington Post. He is also a 2015 Rodel Fellow, and was named to the 2015 Root 100 Top Influencers list.
